WEDNESDAY,....SEPTEMBER 2, 1863.

The Inauguration of Governor Bramlette.

The ceremonies, appropriate to this important event in the history of Kentucky, took place in our city on yesterday. The attendance of ladies and gentlemen from all parts of the State was larger than usual upon such occasions—and the feelings which seem to pervade the vast crowd during the progress of the exercises, was ample evidence of the earnest appreciation of the people, of the immense importance and meaning of the recent demonstration of the freemen of Kentucky which, on the first Monday in August, manifested itself in the glolovalty. No one present entertained any doubt of the true position of this State, and every one felt that Kentucky, would always be, as she has ever been, immovably loyal to the government of our fathers and thoroughly devoted to the principles of constitutional

At 10 o'clock in the morning, the procession, composed of the 2d Maryland Regiment, distinguished officers of the army, civilians, and the various committees, formed in front of the State House, and moved to the Capitol Hotel, where General Bramard T. Jacob, and the Hon. Joshua F. Bell, the public square, where the exercises were to be conducted from a large platform erected for the purpose.

After the vast crowd had been arranged licious and soul-stirring music from the 48th Pennsylvania Band, Gen. John M. Harlan, on behalf of the citizens of Frankfort and Franklin county, delivered, in an eloquent threaten, welcome to the capitol. Gen. H. spoke in substance as follows:

Gen. Bramlette: As the honored organ of the citizens of Frankfort and Franklin county-a loyal city and a loyal county-I welcome you to the capitol of the State, and tender you, most cordially, the hospitalities of this people. We congratulate you sir. upon your elevation, by an unprecedented majority, to the distinguished position of Chief Magistrate of this Commonwealth.

To be the Governor of Kentucky, at any time, has been esteemed an honor of which any citizen might well be proud. But to be the chosen leader of her people at this, as a pioneer in medical discovery, than that of Dr. JOHN BULL, of Louisville, Ky. His inimitable preparation of Sarsaparilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable drug. His Compound Pretoral of Wilder Cherny, has become a household word throughout the West and South; and his Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction attained the West and South; and his Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters now offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it the Indian bids defiance to the most deadly malaria, and handles, witbout fear, the most venomous serpents. It is a belief with them that while there is breath left in the body the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may potent to cure, no matter what the disease may

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to indorse this extravagant pretension, he is, nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all diseases arising from exposure, either to changes of weather and climate, or to the miasmatic influences, it stands without a rival, and justly deserves the reputation it has so long anional in Control America and the West Indian enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be ound in the 11th edition of the U.S. Dispensa-ory, pages 1387 and 1388. A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull-has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled o offer to the public a combination of Cedron with ther approved tonics, the whole preserved in the pest quality of copper-distilled Bourbon whisky which he is confident has no equal in the world. He might furnish a volume of certificates, bu he public have long since learned to estimate such things at their true value. The safest plants, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give the
